

Sangam Festival in city draws huge crowds

NT Bureau
Chennai, Jan 1:

The Sangam Festival, organized by Bala Devi Chandrashekar in collaboration with Kartik Fine Arts, took place on December 31 at Bharatiya Vidya Bhavan in Chennai. The festival, dedicated to the preservation and promotion of Indian classical arts, featured performances by renowned artists such as Guru

Thanjavur Hariharan Herambanathan, Rajkumar Bharathi, and Gopika Varma. Sangam Festival not only showcases exceptional classical performances but also provides educational resources, financial support, and mentorship to artists. Bala Devi's philanthropic efforts, including raising over $500,000 for various causes, further highlight her commitment to arts and societal impact.
